Visit the Twin Cities!

Extend your trip before or after the weekend and enjoy the pleasures of the Twin Cities.

Minneapolis and St. Paul frequently appear among the most highly rated cities in the U.S.

Visitors and residents alike delight in the many lakes, parks, museums, theaters, concert halls, architectural treasures, and shopping attractions (from small shops to the Mall of America).

You can reach many of these by bicycle or light rail from Tapestry Folkdance Center. The light rail line is a short walk from Tapestry Folkdance Center and links directly to the airport. Rental bikes are available all over the city.

Local dancers will enthusiastically share the places they cherish most.

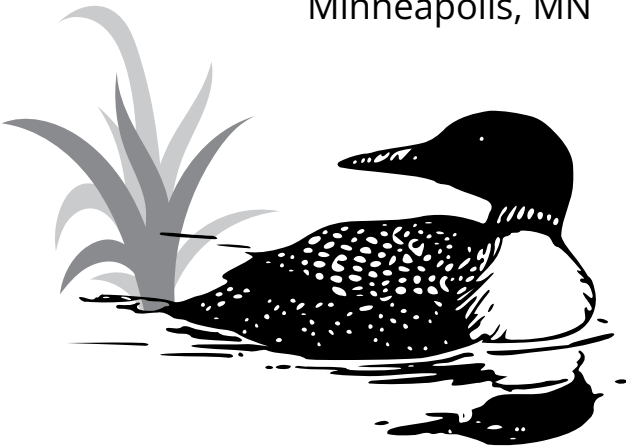

Tapestry Folkdance Center

is a nonprofit arts organization dedicated to providing opportunities for participating in the joys of dance and music from around the world.

Stringrays

Rodney Miller, Max Newman, Stuart Kenney, Sam Bartlett, and Mark Hellenberg are an inimitable five-some of musicians with a shared interest in exploring great fiddle tunes. Their playing is fueled by a love of the living tradition of New England fiddle music and its cousins. Expect dynamic, lyrical improvisation and fresh, dance-inspired interplay.

Will Mentor is a contra and square dance caller from Northern Vermont known for his clear teaching, upbeat wit, and relaxed stage presence. He loves to choreograph evenings with a variety of dances and tempos that at times surprise and always delight.

Northern Aire

Bob Walser, Tim Reese and Pat O'Loughlin join forces for a fresh take on music for square and contra dances. Tim's fiery fiddle and Pat's driving banjo and concertina take tunes ancient and modern to new territory while Bob takes the rhythm and harmony on guitar and piano – and a bit of squeezebox for extra flavor!

Ted Hodapp has been dancing and teaching New England Contras, Appalachian clogging, and traditional dance forms from England, US, and Scandinavia for 40 years. He is a co-author of several books of original contra dances.
